

CAPACITY BUILDING OF LAW OFFICERS: A HARBINGER OF QUALITY DISPENSATION OF JUSTICE: MIAN ABDUL RAUF

Dignity and respect at all times attainable by dint of sheer labour: Advocate General for Islamabad Capital Territory

“To enhance the existing capacity of law officers across the country is a dire need of the hour because well- trained law officers and also prosecutors are crucial to bring quality improvement in the administration of justice at district level,” said Mian Abdul Rauf, Advocate General for Islamabad Capital Territory, while addressing the participants of a one-week training course on “Management of Civil Cases” for District Attorneys/ Deputy District Attorneys at the Federal Judicial Academy, Islamabad, on June 9, 2017.

He said, “There is need to reflect upon the law officer’s role as professional who can play his requisite role for inexpensive and expeditious justice in the civil matters. We know that this training like opportunities guarantee positive change and address the obstacles that hinder speedy dispensation of justice efficiently. It’s time to elevate dignity and honour of office of law officer by effectively playing our role. I firmly believe that dignity and honour can be achieved through integrity and commitment to professional principles and values.”

Shedding light on the mandate of the Academy, Mr. Fakhar Hayat, Director General, Federal Judicial Academy, also presented his welcome speech, an overview of the training course and a brief profile of the chief guest.

Twenty three District Attorneys/ Deputy District Attorneys including two Advocates General from all over Pakistan, Gilgit-Baltistan who benefited from this one week training course at the Academy, were awarded certificates in the ceremony
